Changes in Scholarly Communication Patterns: Australia and the Electronic Library

Mr Brewster Kahle
President

23 February 1993

Dear Mr Kahle,

This note is intended to confirm your time slot at the forthcoming conference. A final programme will be sent to you shortly before the conference, but no major changes are anticipated.

You will have noted that the three days are busy ones, allowing little time for speakers to run over their time. Consequently, I request that your paper, at least in its spoken form, is limited to 45 to 50 minutes. Otherwise there will be no time for discussion, which is a cause for irritation at a major conference.

For your information, we are assured of an attendance of at least 160, which is the optimum number for the venue. We therefore have to decline requests from others for invitations. This makes the rapid publication of the conference papers most essential.

Yours sincerely,

D.J. Mulvaney
Chair, Planning Committee.

All correspondence should be directed to:
Emeritus Professor D.J. Mulvaney AO CMG
Chairman, Planning Committee

>Thanks for your e-mails, including Friday 26 February. You should have no >problems with the power books, providing you can recharge them in Fiji.
>We were conscious that we didn't want to over-burden you with commitments >in Australia, but you might like to consider talking in Brisbane (which is >in striking distance of the Barrier Reef) at an electronic library seminar >there on 22 April. I am sure they would be willing to consider expenses.
>The contact is George Eichinkski, Acting Librarian, University of >Queensland, e-mail: umleich@cc.up.oz.au Fax: (07) 365 6888.

>You may get a request from Tony Ralli in Canberra regarding talking here on >13 April to local ALIA but this has no official national ALIA (Australian >Library and Information Association) status. We would not mind you giving >a lunch-time talk, but we certainly would be not very happy about your >being a keynote seminar leader. I know Professor Mulvaney in particular >wouldn't want the "edge" taken off your major presentation the following >day. Do also remember jet-lag. There will be an American Embassy reception >(includes both of you) on Tuesday night.)
>I'm sure I could line things up in Sydney and/or Melbourne for you after >rather than speaking engagements also, do let me know.

>Dear Brewster
>Another request for a talk but this is probably one I'd rate as a highish >priority if you have the time. This is a National ALIA Seminar in Sydney >on Saturday 17th April at which they would like you to talk with other >conference participants for about three quarters of an hour. You could >repeat the Canberra talk. They will meet all travel costs and any >incidental expenses. It is probably easiest to liaise with Sue Kosse from
